

Liberal Billionaires and Their Montana Connections

Liberal Billionaires and Their Montana Connections

Aaron Flint posted on June 19, 2015 12:41

By: Ron Catlett Media Trackers Montana | June 19, 2015

Share

Organizations

Left-wing billionaire George Soros

Article Highlights

- The recent efforts of a Washington D.C. based dark money group with connections to George Soros, and the travails of liberal Swiss billionaire philanthropist Hansjorg Wyss are bringing renewed attention to the efforts of high powered, wealthy out-of-state leftists.
- Cash with ties to George Soros, Michael Bloomberg, Tom Steyer, and Hansjorg Wyss is increasingly common in Montana's left-of-center movement.

Despite a population of just over 1 million people and just 3 electoral votes, Montana continues to be a hot bed of spending for billionaire's and their political non-profit groups.

While much has been made in recent years about conservative and libertarian groups in Montana — such as Americans for Prosperity Montana — with connections to billionaire brothers Charles and David Koch, the recent efforts of a Washington D.C. based dark money group with connections to George Soros, and the travails of liberal Swiss billionaire philanthropist

